In fact it depends on the search page you are in. From which search have you tried to add this container?

At least from the homepage ; didn't check all other configurations.

It's ok if the find sheet is opened from a find research.

But same bug if the find sheet is opened from an operation or context record sheet opened from an operation search or if the find sheet is opened from a context record sheet opened from a context record search.

So it seems the only case that works is from the find search.
